

What do I want to learn or understand better?

This week I learnt a lot about the program since we split up our old groups and started mixing group members from IT and I in the same group. This taught me a lot about the coding part and I want to continue work this way to extend my knowledge further.

How can I help someone else, or the entire team, to learn something new?

I believe that if you have an open communication and are not afraid to ask questions you can teach each other a lot but also learn a lot from each other. That's what we had in the meetings this week and it felt like many group members learnt a lot this week. The fact that we are now mixing students from IT and I are of course also contributing to the learning. I will then later pass on the knowledge I got this week to the other I students that I was working with the previous weeks.

What is my contribution towards the team's use of Scrum?

This week I was the scrum master which was a big contribution to the team's use of scrum. I also started with having an agenda for each meeting which was a good way to make the meetings more efficient.

What is my contribution towards the team's deliveries?

This week I feel like I have contributed with several deliveries. I finished 4 tasks which I am really happy about. I feel like I can handle more tasks now since I understand more about the program.
