

Individual Reflection-week 8

- What do I want to learn and understand better?

I want to learn and understand better Android Studio feel more comfortable with coding and be more efficient as an Agile team member.

- How can I help someone else, or the entire team, to learn something new?

I tried to be present and active on every meeting and trying to help the team to aim our goal. In our team we are very open to communicate and ask questions from each other if we need help and we help a lot each other.

- What is my contribution towards the teams Use of Scrum?

This week I contribute towards writing sprint-review ,tasks and team reflection in our meetings.

- What is my contribution towards the teams deliveries?

My contribution towards the teams deliveries was that I had responsibility for some questions explanation, which means that some questions needs to have explanations which will help user to understand better the question. I needed to do some tests to find out that the Quiz activity have bugs or not and as well worked on Quiz design which will be more user friendly .
