Individual reflection – Elin Berthag

I want to learn how to develop an app together with my group, also working with new programs such as Git. Besides that, I want to learn how to work with Scrum and understand the benefits of it. I think learning by my group is the key of getting good understanding for the course.

I think I can learn the team about socializing skills and how to work together in a group, because I feel that it is one ability I have. I am a kind of social chameleon and have the ability to work with very different personalities and that maybe can contribute to get the other to do the same.

It is very hard to say how I can contribute to the use of Scrum, I will try my best to learn very quickly and maybe then help the others.

This week, my contribution maybe was not the best. Because I was at the hospital in Monday and Tuesday, so I could not be at the practice or the lecture. But I will make up for this the rest of the course. Though, I wrote a big part of the social contract.
